The lights will be situated E.S.E. and W.N.W. from each other at a distance o 1180 feet apart, the higher one being 347 and the lower one 315, feet above high water mark, and they will be visible at distance to seaward of about 12 miles. A correspondent has furnished with a detailed account of the attack on the survey party in Upper Huzara. The pariculars the Bombay Gazette appear to be the following:-The party was under the charge of Mr. G. B. Scott, who was conducting survey operations about forty miles from Agror. Mr. Scott had with him at the time but twenty men of the 3nd Puniab Infantry and about fifty of the country people, the remainder having decamped on the first approach of damger. Early on that day Mr. Scott had reason to suspect that danger was threatening, and he prudently fortified his position by throwing up a temporary breastwork. It was too late to attempt an escape. The little party, therefore, determined to put a bold front on the matter, and took their stand behind their breast-work. As the Pathans came on, sword in hand, they were met by a well-directed volley which stopped their advance and compelled them to seek shelter. Shots were then exchanged on both sides. The firing continued for about an hour, when a thick fog came on and under its friendly cover Mr. Scott and ! his twenty Punjabees beat a hasty retreat, the country people who belonged to his party quietly dispersing. Not a man was lost, nor was any of the baggage left behind. The loss inflicted on the enemy, however, made him more cautious. He waited till

A case of breach of promise affords glorious fun for a court of law, but, unfortunately, what is fun to everyone else is frequently death to the defendant. Baron Bramwell put the law of the case in a proper light at the Leeds Assizes, when he told the jury not to give such heavy damages that every man should be frightened into marrying woman who would make him unhappy for life, but rather to give the plaintiff a fair compensation. Juries in future will perhaps be a little more merciful to a man who finds that he has made a hasty promise, fulfil which would be to mar his future life. There are cases in which a man has done a woman an irretrievable wrong, and deserves a fine which amounts to a punishment if he refuse to marry her; but the majority of these cases are grossly unjust. The law courts are hardly any protection for a wo man of feeling and refinement, while they offer every temptation to the adventuress Where the other sex is plaintiff he is laughed out of court. In one case a man very honestly and candidly woosd an elderly lady for her money, and invested a considerable amount in marriage preparations. The lady repented in time. Here was a clear case of loss, but the judge told the man he never knew a jury award a masculine plaintiff any thing, and accordingly they gave him one hilling damages. A poor milkman had to pay a servant girl £26, the only evidence being to the effect that he had been seen kissing her behind the door when he came round with the milk. The jury should have known that he only complied with hallowed custom, common slike to himself, the policeman, the butcher, the baker, and even the postman when not in a hurry.

QUEEN ELIZABETH.—In the Fitz William Museum at Cambridge, is Queen Elizabeth's music-book, containing compositions for the pianoforte or virginal of her time. The Queen is said to have been a skilful musician. Some pages of the book have been evidently often turned over others but seldom looked at. The leaves that are soiled are those on which the simplest tunes are written; the others contain the variations and more intricate passages. Although her Majesty has the reputation of having been an accomplished performer on the virginal. this musicbook proves that she was wont to skip the more irksome compositions, and indulge in the less laborious pastime of playing the tunes only. It is an easy way of acquiring the reputation of a pianist, to get together many of the most difficult pieces of Thalberg, Liszt, and others, and play only the melodies they arrange, avoiding the brilliant passages which are so difficult to master, and often so puzzling to linten to. I rather think Queen Elizabeth did this with the music of the Liszts and Thalbergs of her day, judging from her music-

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS & OINTMEN' HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. HIS Medicine is universally admitted to be the most efficacious remedy known to the world. No preparation is so suitable to the climates of India and China as this fine and invigorating medicine. I is particularly adapted to the constitution of European ladies, as it is never failing in its effects in all diseases peculiar to females, while those who are attenuated by the debilitating effects of the above climates will find in this wonderful remedy a kind of talisman whereby they may insure a restoration to robust health. HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT The science of Medicine has never before produced any remedy that can be compared o this wonderful Uintment, as it cures after all other means have failed, al wounds, sores, ulcers, and also the most inveterate skin diseases peculiar to the climates of India and China. It is the true friend of the Soldier and Civilian, as certain old sores can be removed by it that cannot be conquered by any other treat-
